

CME FAQs

1. What type of credit can I receive for the 2021 Virtual Scientific Assembly?

The 2021 Virtual Scientific Assembly is designated with AOA Category 1-A credits and AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. The Scientific Assembly is an educational activity that offers universal CME credit for DOs, MDs, and allied health professionals.

2. Can I view the recordings after the live conference?

Yes, the lecture recordings will be available for viewing for 3 months after the conference ends.

3. If I miss a session from the live broadcast, can I claim CME credit for watching the recording?

Yes, you will be able to claim CME credit whether you watched during the live broadcast or through the recordings for 3 months after the end of the live conference.

4. Will I lose the ability to gain 1-A credit by watching the recordings versus live?

No, you will be able to claim AOA Category 1-A credits if you watch live or through the recordings. However, you must register for the conference before it ends on October 15th.

5. When can claim my CME credit?

On the last day of the conference, Friday, October 15th, you will receive an email with links to the attestation forms to claim CME credit for both the live and recorded sessions. Credits can only be claimed once and cannot exceed the maximum number of credits available.

6. How long do I have to claim my credits?

The CME credit claim window will remain open for 3 months after the live event ends. It is recommended you claim CME credit prior to the closing date to avoid delays in processing and receipt of your CME certificate.

7. When will I receive my CME certificate?

All learners who complete the attestation process before the closing date of Friday, January 14, 2022 will receive their CME certificate via email starting the week of Monday, January 17th.

Please make every effort to complete the process before the closing date as requests made after this date will be subject to review and if approved, significantly delayed.

8. Does ACOEP report CME credits to the AOA for DO learners? Are there any additional steps I need to take?

Yes, ACOEP will report the CME credits earned to the AOA on your behalf. On the attestation form, please submit your correct AOA number and we will automatically submit those credits for you to the AOA.

9. How can I track subspecialty credits earned from the conference?

Subspecialty credit totals will appear on the CME certificate provided to you.

10. I am not a physician; can I still claim credit for participating in the 2021 Virtual Scientific Assembly?

Yes, all learners should complete the attestation process to confirm the credits earned from the Scientific Assembly and receive a certificate of participation.

The certificate provided will indicate the number and type of CME credits designated to the conference. This certificate may be submitted to your applicable professional organization (i.e., AANP, AAPA, etc.) to receive credit for your participation.
